A general fishing license and boat are all that are necessary to enjoy this sport at Lake Arrowhead.

BATTLING" CHINK AFTER NATIONALISTA

Joe Levy, the well-known manager of boxers and who has handled a number of the best boys in America, is here with a string of mitr-pushers. Heading the list is "Battling" Chink, a 114 to 118-pounder, regarded by many as one of the best lads of his heft in America. Levy would like nothing better than sending Chink against Nationalista, the fighting Filipino, and believes he has a chance to put the Filipine in dreamland. Chink is clever, has a great wallop and battles all the time. Levy also manages Rusty Russell, 133-pounder: Tommy White, 142-pounder: Harry Ritzer, 145-pounder, and Mannie Kaplan, a 160-pounder. The boys are all in good condition and ready for action.

Without attempting to jusers" at the championship Rugby game at Paris the other day, in which the American the title, 13 to 7, it is at the the title, 18 to 7, it is at the same time easy to understand the antagonism of the Parisians for the Americans. That is—it is easy for anybody who has seen the American and French versions of Rugby football to understand. Our variety of the English pastime is entirely too rough and tough for the gentlemen who live near the Seine.

The American idea of Rugby is to make it as nearly like the American game of football as possible. The ball is kept among the forwards, who are and apparently carrying a backfield for the sole purpose of picking up the pill in case it accidentally filters out of the melee, and booting it to touch.

the melee, and booting it to touch.

The French idea is the exact antithesis. They play the game as a science, endeavoring to heel it back to the backfield and spring a beautiful aweeping passing rush down the field through the cleverness and speed of their backs. The British, who are the only people who really know how to play Rugby, and "British" includes the South Africans, Australians and New Zealanders, play a combination of the two games.

The thing that killed Rng-by in this country was the absolute impossibility of teaching the impossibility of teaching the big battling Californians to play the game the way it was supposed to be played. The only fun they could see in the game lay in making one grand and gloriour rough house out of it, and the man who lived through a California Rugby contest in the old days was one tough baby. The Americans finally developed the sorimmage habit to such an extent that all the spectacular features were lost and the public lost interest.

Against a really good Rugby team, such as the Australian All-Blacks, the American taotics were hopeless, for the forwards from down under were clever enough to hook the ball away from the Americans and the magnificent dashing backs roared through the American defense like water through a sieve, running up thirty and forty points on teams which the Americans regarded as absolutely unbearable.

But against a team which

But against a team which doesn't match up physically and, particularly which doesn't have the battling Anglo-Saxon instinct, the American system of Rugby works like a charm. It's awfully difficult to be clever when some great, burly 200-pound Californian knocks you about fifteen yards the first time he tackles you, and persists in so doing every time he catches you with the ball. All the Americans had to de bound to break down morale.

Incidentally, California has a chance to howl over the victory of the Americans, for the American Rugby team is 100 per cent Californian. Many of the players are American football men, among them Dick Hyland, who was the shining light of the Stanford creshman last fall; Jack Patrick, former Stanford captain, and Jimmy Dixon, former Cal-

Pulitzer air race in aeronautic history, now proposes to show the world how a tennis tournament should be staged, and it wouldn't do Los Angeles any harm to take a good look to see how it is done. When they start to do something in St. Louis they do it in style, as witness the manner in which the bridge players of the St. Louis Hacquet Club trimmed the LA.A.C. experts.

Anyhow, they are going to surround the two center courts, on which the big matches of the national clay court championship will be played, with boxes and stands to accommodate 3000 spectators on the shady side, and about 1500 over in the sun. Tilden, Johnson, Norton, Snodgrass, the Kinsey brothers and most of the other ranking players not on the Olympic team, will be there to do their stuff.

Old Pop Warner, who is to start his thirtieth year of football coaching at Stanford this fall, is really enthustastic about the prospects for a good team on the "farm." In writing to a Stanford grad in Los Angeles he says: "I can hardly wait for the football season to roll around. I never looked forward to any football season with so much enthusiasm as I do the coming one."

That's a whole lot for a man to say who has been telling obstreperous college boys how to play the game for thirty years, but it gives some idea of how Stanford feels. The Cardinals believe that they are on the top of the heap at last, and that their baseball and track victories over the Bears this year will be wound up gloriously by a gridiron victory in the big Stanford stadium next November.

"Jack Dempsey is going to fight, not box, when he appears at Doyle's Vernon arena Tuesday, June 3, on a program of boxing unequaled in the history of Southern California," said Jack Kearns yesterday. "Jack is training hard and I expect him to knock out the two best opponents that Wad Wadhams can dig up for him. And we aren't going to limit our search to the Coast. If Wadhams can't find men who can make Dempsey step out here we'll get two of the best heavyweights around New York and bring them out."

Such, in the brief were the remarks of Dempsey's manager at a noon day "breakfast" at the Hotel Alexandria yesterday, the meal attended by the officers and directors of the Philanthropy and Civice Clubs and hungry newspapaper men. Mrs. Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith and Mrs. J. J. Funds from the Vernon benefit will be expended by the Philanthropy and Civics Club in its charity work for children.

Kearns says that Dempsey is going to fight only once this fall, in all probability, and the champion.

Southern Conference Adopts Eligibility Rules

Hopes to Discourage Scouting for Prep Athletes

Agreement Similar to Recent Big Three Document

which is in spirit the same as that which is in spirit the same as that adopted by California, Stanford and U.S.C. last week, is announced by athletic heads of the Southern California Intercollegiate Conference, the purpose of the document being to tighten up on eligibility rules and to discourage the process of scouting for high school athletes. The agreement is the product of some five months of study on the part of a special committee, of which Eugene W. Nixon, head of the sthletic department of Fomona College, was chairman.

The recommendations passed by representatives of the six colleges, including Occidental, Pomona. Whittier, Caltech, Southern Branch and Redlands University propose new and strict regulations governing the securing and eligibility of athletes and create a subcommittee whose purpose will be to act on cases of eligibility and rumors of violations reported by members to the agreement.

first monthly club bouts will take place in the gymnasium of the Hollywood Athletic Club.

If one may accept the past record of the boxers and wrestlers as a criterion of the class they will display tomorrow night, no one would for a moment doubt that this show will be a "corker."

The main event and semi-wind-up are all pupils of Mr. Howard, boxing instructor and matchmaker of the club, and have fought the best boys of the L.A.A.C., numbering among their opponents no lesser lights than Fidel La Barba, Ed Gleason, Jackie Fields and Joe Salas, all of whom have been sent east by the A.A.C. to compete in the Olympic championships.

The boys are Simon-pure amateurs and fight regular amateur rules, three rounds of three minutes each, with one minute rest. If the boys are even at the end of the third round an extra fourth round is ordered by the two judges and the referce, and a decision must be given. Mr. Hartwell and Mr. W. V. Thompson have been selected as judges.

The wrestlers are pupils of Carl Johnson and it can be asserted that they will put it on for the boys.

In addition to the boxing and boys. In addition to the boxing and wreetling there will be an added feature of Japanese sword fencing. This sport is very popular in Japan, being taught in school as a part of the regular curriculum. The idea is for the fencer to strike the opponent upon the hand. These boys will furnish plenty of action.

Now Two Fine Cars

At a One-Car Cost:

A Car For You—A Car For Her Buy and Operate Them at the Cost of One

TS a fact, men-not merely a claim.

A fact that you and she can prove.

Con't say that fine-car quality, commarker, reliability, performance and contract cannot be had at a price that place two fine cars in a family in of the one there now—until you must make good on this assertion are aware of that, else this is advertising. We try not to do we have a logical idea to propose and we feel that we can prove ou in one half-hour's time, and we ng the cars to you to match with mith no obligation on your part a all to your advantage—two fine in place of one—in ways of which, aps. you haven't thought.

What It Means

means that neither you nor she need again "take the car" and feel that the in the least bit selfish. In the ar family, often, both need the car at must give it up. Either does so by yet the taker feels discomfort in try comfort of that car.

our business needs it, or your health demands it—she is aware of that, but you are conscious of depriving her.

She needs to shop or take the children somewhere—you realize that fully, but she thinks that you, perhaps, should have it anyway.

But with two cars both you and she go free; and for the first time really know the daily pleasure of a car.

The entire family then is served. You and she are happier and less tired. It takes much of the nervous hurry out of life. The children have more fun.

Now More and More

More and more families every day are coming to this plan. Note the two-car garages behind nearly every new home that is being built today.

They are for people who know two-car satisfaction, or who mean to know it

If you could call on all the two-car families, you'd be impressed by the percentage in which you'd find both cars to be Studebakers.

A seven-passenger Big-Six Touring Car—a Light-Six Coupe or Sedan— purchased and operated at the cost of one car formerly.

What We Must Prove

We must prove our figures. We can do that easily.

We must prove a fine-car quality equal to that which you may have known. We are confident that, when you've tried them, you'll say we have the cars that prove that point.

No Cost, No Trouble, And No Obligation

This is nothing more nor less than a challenge to ourselves.

You may doubt, and naturally. We are confident.

We've made statements that you may think are bold.

We ask merely that you keep on thinking and withhold decision until you have made the test-until we've brought both cars to you and you have driven ing, over the same streets, roads and three cars, the same afternoon or morn--your car and ours.

Let that be the only selling argument the one you make to yourself. If the two-car idea doesn't win you in this way, then you'll have proved, at least, that while it may appeal to others it does not appeal to you.

Here are the Reasons Why DIDSMOBILE - SIX

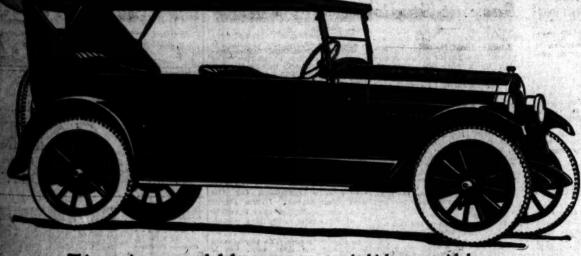

meets every test of motoring!

TAST week, Oldsmobile asked the public to suggest some new test-further Leto prove the stamina and all-round merit of this wonderful car.

Olds Motor Works has done everything conceivable to demonstrate the quality and performance of Oldsmobile Six—and it agrees to do everything else within reason that any prospective buyer might suggest.

It may sound like an extravagant offer—this plan of letting the public choose the tests—but we cannot possibly lose. The car has literally done everything any reasonable motorist could ask of it. Moreover we know what's in the car-finest materials, bought at advantageous General Motors prices, and manufactured into cars with all the combined experience and skill of Oldsmobile and General Motors.

Here are a few of the reasons for our confidence in Oldsmobile Six-and things that influence 500 people a day to buy it-

This amazing car traveled from coast to coast in high gear—with low where other cars were stalled—crossing the highest mountains—and established an economy record of 27.8 miles per gallon of gasoline, throughout the entire 3674 miles of the trip. His playlet, "A Good Provider," by Elaine Eterna, provides every chance for Dexter's magnetic emotional appeal and powers of acting. It is about dad, and how his wife and daughter seemed to forget all about his birthday, but came back miraculously to dine with him at home. Maybe some of the family was listening in on the radio, and heard pop talking pathetically to the imaginary characters at table with him as he prepared to eat his lonely meal. Dexter scored heavily at any rate, putting over a nicely shaded performance full of appeal. To us who knew him in the days of his iliness, his comeback carried a deeper thrill, as did his cry, in the character of the deserted husband and father, "God, how lonely I am!"

Dexter made an excellent little curtain speech in answer to the applause. His support is adequate, Fred Waiton playing the Butler exceptionsily well, while James Neill, Jr., provided youthful gallantry and Misses Winifred Barry and Nancy Chase Jurnished the feminine beauty.

Also Irene Bordoni a pretty song, and some good if slightly disay comedy.

Chiefly, though, Irene Bordoni. That's for personality.

Next honors, and first honors a lot of the time, to Avery Hopwood for writing in the laughs, and Eric Blore for putting a majority of them over.

The name of the play is "Lattle Miss Bluebeard," and despite the Bordoni name in the electrics, it is not a musical show, strictly speaking. There is music in it, but most of the time it is just an incident, if a rather charming one. I remember the days when Miss Bordoni used to fashion-plate the vaudeville stage, and make the boys in the first two rows bite off their finger nails. Her songs were merely props for her dazzle.

They are no more than that now, though she does a dash of sprightly talking, both in English and French, by the way.

The plot is purely clasual in the play; and occasionally, also, casually pure. It is no shocker, though. The situations are delicately complicated with wives and husbands, especially those of other men and other women, who run onto the stage and interfere with the smooth course of romance.

At the finale, to be sure, you find that it was only make-believe murder after all, and that the only thing that the girl really wanted was—

BOND QUOTATIONS

Slow Market [BY A. P. NIGHT WINE] NEW YORK, May 19.—Specu-

NEW YORK, May 19—Speculative fears that the Senate would override the President's veto of the bonus bill imparted a hesitant tone to bond prices today. Trading was extremely quiet, pending the outcome of the wote, which idd not become known until after the close of the market.

Buying of the government's obligations lagged throughout the session, and investment purchasing was concentrated principally on railroad liens. The demand for high-grade issues, however, was by no means brisk, and some offerings were taken only at slight concessions. Bond traders reported an especially good market for the equipment trust obligations with shelves virtually swept clean of this type of securities.

Negotiations were completed today for a new Czecho-Słovak loan, and offerings will be made tomorrow of $9,250,000 8 per cent bonds, due in 1952, at a price of 96%. Simultaneous offerings of 1,350,000 will be made in London and £200,000 pounds in Amsterdam. The bonds compose series B of the $14,000,000 issue sold here in 1922.

Needless Risk and Loss

Many investors, in striving for greater safety through diversification, buy un-sound securities. Careful calculation would show in many instances that even where there is no loss of principal, the interest losses, and expenses inci-dental to exchanges and adjustments, materially reduce the actual net yield. Many investors also incur needless risks in attempting to "follow the market."

Investments should be made strictly on the basis of security and income. When an investor's holdings are constantly shifted and traded for speculative profit, the purposes of sound investment are defeated.

It is a generally conceded fact that there is no sounder form of security than conservative first mortgages on well-located, improved and income-producing properties. Consequently, an actual pro-rate interest in a diversified group of such mortgages necessarily represents the maximum degree of safety and certainty of income. That is exactly the form of investment that is offered in our Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates which are being purchased in steadily increasing amounts by banks, insurance companies, and experienced individual investors.

The very important advantages of these Cortificates are set forth in a booklet which will be gladly mailed upon request.

In spite of all the safeguards which are available to investors, we hear almost daily of unwise investments that result in loss of principal. The promise of large profits is sure to be accompanied by large risks. Safety of principal should be the first consideration and seven or eight per cent should satisfy anyone.

Mayor Declares Chatsworth Enterprise Needless, Unsuited and Disapproved by Residents

I have carefully investigated the matter of the proposed location of a cemetery at Chatsworth, and cannot give the plan my approval. A recent visit to the community most vitally interested convinces me that the plan ought not to have the sanction of the city.

I find: (a) That there is no present need for additional cemeteries or cemetery page in the city of Los Angeles, nor will there be for years to come: (b) that the proposed location is unsuited to the purpose of establishing a cemetery; (c) that the people of the district are opposed to the location of a cemetery in their midst and I think their interests should be considered.

LARGE ARESAS OPEN

With reference to the first objection, it is sufficient to say that in ten established cemeteries there are now available for use for the interment of human bodies approximately 900 acres of land. This area should be sufficient to provide burial space for human bodies for many decades to come. The proposed cemetary is located approximately thirty-five miles from the center of the city. In fact, so far as distance is concerned, the proposition is much like that of locating a cemetary for the city of Los Angeles adjacent to the city of Pomona.

There are already several cemetaries in the San Fernando Valley. The site of the proposed cemetary is in the San Fernando Valley. The site of the proposed cemetary is nainly upon an inclined plain, sloping from the foot of the mountains toward the valley below. All of the drainage is di-

An inquest conducted yesterday by Coroner Brown at Fullerton resulted in a verdict of unavoidable accident in the deaths of James McGuffin and Elwood H. Baldwin of Whittier, killed in a crossing accident at La Habra Sunday night. It was declared the men, returning in an automobile from a Moose convention at Santa Ans, had crashed through gates protecting the Pacific Electric and Union Pacific tracks and had been etruck by a Pacific Electric train which killed both almost instantly. McGuffin was 49 years of age and leaves a widow. Baldwin was 60 and leaves a widow. Baldwin was 60 and leaves a widow and children. After the inquest the bodies were removed to the Coleman undertaking rooms at Whittier. A crowd of 200 or 300, all friends of the dead men, gathered at the site of the accident, within a few minutes. Youth Won Bride by Tale of Wealth; Judge Decides Dancing, talking and writing came easy for Stephen King Blakesley, 22 years of age. His grace in the ballroom won the affections of Aimes R. Thompson, attractive society girl. His tales of a Yale degree and wealthy eastern parents are said to have caused their friendship to ripen into marriage after a whirlwind courtship. But in writing came his downfall. Young Blakesley was sentened to Norwalk yesterday by Judge Hardy. It was charged that the youth wrote his name on a number of checks without having the necessary money on deposit. After he was arraigned before Justice Russill his asserted mania for writing checks caused an examination.

The woman's hat, handbag and coat were found at the extreme edge of the Santa Monica municipal pier Friday morning. In the bag was found a note which stated that the writer could not endure lite without her baby. Since then life guards and Santa Monica authorities have been keeping a constant lookout for the woman's body.

The woman's attempt to end her life and her subsequent change of mind followed the disappearance of her husband and their 3-year-old child from their home here. Family differences are said to have caused him to leave home.

Mrs. Kennon stated yesterday that she had received a telegram from her husband, who is now in Texas, in which he stated that both he and the child are in good health. A reconciliation between them is improbable, however, Mrs. Kennon said.

1900 Cataract Makes Summer Laundry Easy

The hosts of light clothes that follow in the wake of these warm summery days need not worry you if you have a 1900 Cataract to do the laundry for you.

And it is not an expense for the money saved on laundry bills will pay for the machine in comparatively short time. The new small model—with just the same cataraction principle and the same absolute guarantee—as the usual large model, is only $135.

Bungalow Model, $135.

Miss Maddock of the Good Housekeeping Institute considers the oscillating washer the safest for fine clothes and the best investment because it wears for an indefinite period especially if the tub is copper.

The 1900 Cataract fills all requirements. It is an oscillating machine—the only one with double action—and has the durable copper tub suggested. No gears are exposed, every part is made with the best material and workmanship obtainable.

Figure-8 movement of the water moves the clothes comparatively little and that little safely-but it moves them so that every garment is constantly exposed to the hot, sudsy water which forces itself over, under and through every square inch of fabric—thoroughly cleansing every piece with uniform care.

Ironer Equally Efficient

With this Ironer you can sit comfortably and by merely starting the edge of each garment on the smooth turning roll, you can easily do the work of an expert laundress. It irons shirts, underwear, blouses—even the frilly ones—with perfect satisfaction.

If you have an old style, unsatisfactory or worn out washing machine, Barker Bros. will gladly make liberal allowance for it toward the purchase of a "1900" Cataract.

How true it is, that we often fail to appreciate the familiar and supposedly common-place things we have about us. It sometimes takes another person's impartial viewpoint to give us the proper perspective.

With all our quest for health, for foods that are appetizing and wholesome, for foods that contain the vital elements necessary to life, we are prone to overlook the most easily procured and the most nearly perfect of all foods-Milk.

Judge Keetch allowed the jury to hear a purported confession of Bailey to the police. The judge ruled that no coercion had been used to obtain the confession, after hearing arguments on its admissibility for the better part of two days.

Montijo, Bailey and Perry are accused of the murder of Policeman Glen Bond and the attempted robbery of the Merchants' National Bank agency at Seventh and Hoover streets.

HEARING SET ON ACTION

In the asserted confession, Bailey said he met Montijo, Perry and Oscar Perry, went to the bank with them, and attempted to hold it up. He said he and Louis Perry each fired at Policeman Bond but did not know which shot struck him Oscar Perry will be tried separately on the charges.

Another witness yesterday was W. E. Zimmerman, manager of the agency. He described the hold up to the Jury. The case will continue today. The men are being prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty.
Richardson.

OWNERS OF LAND ON KERN ASSERT RIPARIAN RIGHT INVADED

Crops and stock on land bordering the Kern River. Buena Vista Lake and Buena Vista slough in Kern county are in danger of being lost through drought resulting from a diversion of water through a new ditch connecting with the river, according to a complaint in an injunction suit filed in the United States District Court against owners of the ditch. The action was brought by Miller & Lux, a Nevada corporation, against Lucy E. Jewett and thirty-seven others comprising two corporations said recently to have completed what is known as the Emery ditch. The plaintiffs say the normal flow of water in the Kern River below the junction of the Emery ditch with the river has for some time been insufficient to meet the requirements of their land. The new ditch, they say, will deprive them of water rightfully belonging to them. They ask the court to enjoin use of the ditch GREER AGREES TO

The President Hayes clipped a day off her schedule, due, Capt. Ahlin said, to unusually good weather; and will sail for San Francisco tonight after discharging 2000 tons of a capacity carge of freight from all over the world.

The Kroonland discharged 172 passengers, 1470 tons of freight and sailed at 1 a.m. today for San Francisco. Daylight saving at New Tork confused several passengers, who missed the ship when she sailed. The ship's butcher, Robert Aldritt, refused to be left behind and, chartering a seaplane, flew out to sea and was picked up by the Kreenland several miles out.

Officers reported the death of Benjamin Crimp, junior engineer, of Liverpool, just before the ship reached Panama, of heat tramps.
